It's inevitable. Winter is here. For the next too many months, the Minnesota winter will make driving, walking and dressing that much more difficult. So, at the end of the day, after work and wedding planning, you need to relax.

If baths are your way of warming up from the cold and cooling down from the day's stresses, check out Blissful Bath, owned and operated by Danielle Radke of Woodbury. She sells hand-made bath products with muscle massaging and skin softening ingredients. Bath bombs are amongst the most popular items, and come in a plethora of flavors such as spicy orange, blackberry and—my favorite—red ruby pomegranate. See the other products at blissfulbath.com or in store at the shop in Woodbury Lakes.

Brides, I'd like to know how you relax at the end of the day. Comment or email me your ideas.
